

WHEN LIFE SUCKS

A TWO-WEEK SERIES

What do you do when life is disappointing? Your wife leaves. Your child is sick. One day you have the security of a job—and the next day you have joined the ranks of the unemployed? How do you cope when the news from the doctor finally comes and it is not good? How do you handle the news when, hypothetically, your guest speaker cancels one week before the big event?

Mitch Albom saw the first-hand devastation of an orphanage in Haiti and chose to stay there this week to rebuild. For those kids, life sucks. But is that the last chapter? Is there hope beyond life's disappointments?

Join us for two weeks as we unpack.....
